fairly carries the audience by storm.
His voice is a beautiful, high soprano, true and rich, with a fullness and power unusual in one of such high compass.
He shows splendid training in the way he handles his voice. His three selections were as well received as they were rendered, which is saying much for this youthful singer."

Owing to the inability of the Keys stone State to get away from Middle-sop son state to get away from Middle-sop port as soon as expected, her owners de-cided to reship her freight on the Queen city, which passed here Saturday eve-ning, and have the Keystone State come back. The reshipment was made at Middleport Monday night.

The Virginia did not get away from Pittsburgh until Sunday morning at 5 o'clock. Should she be unable to reach Cheinnati in time to go back this evening, the Keystone State will be sent out in her stead, and the Virginia go back on Thursday, the Keystone's day. By this arrangement the shippers are insured all three boats this week for Pittsburgh.

The report that Green river, a tributary of the Lower Ohlo, was never frozen over is a mistake. Captain John A. Wood, who did some boating on that river in 1883 and 1891 says he was inhad in his life-time known it to be frozen over two or three times. However, it only occurs once in a great while, and the mouth of that river where it empires into the Ohlo is considered an excellent ice harbot saddered an excellent ice harbot.

Captain John Moren, who spent several weeks in Clincinnati for the Pitts burgh combine, looking after the various towboats, has received an appointment for regular duty from the combine. He is in charge of the freighting department of the combine. Every craft in the river that was capable of pushing a tow was put into commission. If the present rise holds good it is problem out. Tow housts with empties are expected to arrive today and will immediately hitch and leave today with tows. Heavy rains were reported from all points up the Allegheny and Monongahala Vaileys, and that the residents of the smaller fowns appreciated the downpour would be putting it middly. CHAIRMAN JONES of the Democratic National Committee now talks of regulating Trusts rather than smashing

Goebel couldn't find a newspaper at Frankfort that would do his dirty work; and so he had one started that will fill every requirement.

THE various reviews of the year's business and commercial progress in the United States do not indicate any immediate necessity for adopting Why doesn't Hodray Woodson, the Blowite, "clean out" that crowd of visitors at Frankfort? He promised a Chicago newspaper reporter that he would do so.

GOEBEL the Senator fixing up rules and packing committees to decide his own contest for the Governorship! Gentlemen Democrats, isn't that a spectacle for the gods!

WHAT is the matter with WILLARD
MITCHELL, the stud cricket of Jessamine, that he doesn't drive that crowd of people out of Frankfort? He promised to kill every white Republiean in Kentucky.

THE last "inspiration" of BIL THE last "inspiration" of BILL GORBEL is to drive the Associated Press out of Kentucky. Well, as The Courier-Journal, GOEBEL's chief foghorn, is largely interested in the Associated Press,—why, just let 'er go!

If we had only kept to our original thirteen states we would probably never have gotten into this frightful Philippine muss. As it is, we are quickly sinking into oblivion, and will probably carry Boston with us.

SECRETARY GAGE's action in pre-venting a financial crash is looked upon by the Populists as particularly reprehensible. A wave of disaster would have been a splendid card for them in their present depressed and depleted condition.

THE Goebel Legislature has elected" Jo BLACKBURN United States Senator; but he has not yet been admitted to a seat in that body; and it's doubtful if he will be. It takes more than a packed Legislature to secure a cushioned chair in the North end of the Capitol Building.

Some of our contemporaries are "arguing" with the Goebel gang for having trampled the Constitution under foot. It is a waste of energy, A Winchester, a Springfield or a Krag-Joergenson are the proper arguments in this case; and from present indications they may be used.

THE man who is loyal to his party is to be admired; but when his party is being used by corrupt men for selfish purposes, he shows true heroism in refusing to follow. There are some gentlemen in the present Kentucky Legislature that can either damn themselves. Which will they do?

THE Goebelites are frothing at the mouth because a large number of leading citizens of Kentucky are in Frankfort to note their rascally proceedings, and charge that the visitors are "members of the militia in citizen's clothing." They also threaten to call on Governor TAYLOR for an explanation as to why these persons are in Frankfort, and propose that their packed Legislature shall make an 'investigation.' This is asd—dev-lish sad. Of course, Governor TAYLOR ought to let these political DICK TURINS override the will of the people without the slightest protest. THE Goebelites are frothing at the
